

Paul Gossman

☎ (313) 720 1892 • ✉ contact@paulgossman.com • 🌐 pgossman

Relativity
Chicago, IL

October 17, 2017

Hello,

I am a junior in Computer Science at the University of Michigan, and I am highly interested in working at Relativity next summer.

I believe I would be a great asset for your team. I have one year of prior experience as a full-stack developer, where I maintained existing applications and also designed and built new applications from a set of specifications. From several personal projects and academic research, I also have experience creating REST APIs and designing both relational and NoSQL database schemas. More generally, I am also a very hardworking individual with excellent problem-solving and communication skills.

Please review my resume for any additional details regarding my experience and relevant skills. I look forward to hearing from you.

Thank you,

Paul Gossman